To: Nilesh Agrawal, Finance Controller · Re: Reading expense receipts automatically · Date: 15 October 2026

Recommendation

Read every bill automatically. Auto-approve a claim under Rs 2,000 only when all checks pass: 85% of small claims did (220 of 258, June–July). Send everything else to a clerk with the reason already written. Do not auto-approve on amount alone.

Accuracy

On 196 processed claims kept aside for testing, the system matched the clerk on 94.7% of fields and the photo on 98.9%. Most disagreements were clerk typing: of 53 checked by hand, 44 were clerk errors (dropped digits, wrong dates, blank GSTINs, inked amounts typed as genuine).

Field	vs clerk	vs photo
Bill date	98.5%	100%
Amount	95.4%	100%
Bill number	93.9%	99.0%
GSTIN	91.8%	99.0%
Vendor	93.9%	96.4%

Against the photo, all five fields clear your 95%; against the clerk's typing, date and amount do.

What it saves

A clerk costs Rs 216 an hour (Rs 76,000 for 352 hours). The 78% of claims approved automatically save 3.5 minutes each. The model costs Rs 0.13 a photo.

	Claims/month	Clerk time saved	Model cost	Net
Company	2,400	109 h, Rs 23,577	Rs 317	Rs 23,260
Nagpur	240	11 h, Rs 2,358	Rs 32	Rs 2,326

What it recovers

In Nagpur's June–July claims the checks found Rs 16,832 in repeat bills (16), altered amounts (8) and over-claims (5). The clerks approved Rs 15,383 of it, and your "auto-approve under Rs 2,000" rule would have paid all of it. At the same rate that is about Rs 1.43 lakh a month company-wide, Rs 14,274 in Nagpur. Recovering it is worth six times the clerk-time saving.

The fake "PRE-VERIFIED" stamp

Five receipts carry a stamp telling "automated processing" to approve the bill and skip the duplicate check. Every one is an altered or repeated bill. A tool that obeys text on the page would have paid them. Ours treats receipt text as evidence, never instructions, and flags the stamp itself.

Faster pay for reps

For Amol: clean claims go straight into the weekly payment run, with no wait for a clerk. Only flagged claims queue.

What I need from you

1. Sign-off on two limits: a bill may differ from the expense date by ±1 day, and may be at most 60 days old.
2. Permission to query the repeat claims found.
3. App fixes from IT: auto-rotate photos, retry failed uploads, save bare file names.
4. A vendor master with GSTINs.
5. An owner for the review queue.
6. A paid API key for production: the free tier stops at 500 photos a day.
